Dear Parents,

The children have done brilliantly well with their SATs this week and their reward was a visit to the ice-cream parlour tomorrow. Unfortunately the weather is not looking good so we have decided to postpone the visit until after the holidays when we have a sunny day (I will let you know when we are going to go).

Instead the children have decided they would like to bring a toy tomorrow and a sweet treat and drink. I apologise for the late notice but we were hoping the forecast would be wrong!

Kind regards

Karen Formby
