

Dear Year Six,

I hope you all had a good weekend, thank you to everyone who has been sending work through, it's lovely to see all your home learning and I am so impressed with how hard you are all working. It's not easy to work or learn from home as there are so many distractions and sometimes just finding a quiet spot to work feels impossible. This week Mr Tobin has turned his hand to some DIY. He brought himself a new electric screwdriver and put together a flat packed desk for me. I am now able to sneak off and hide myself away up in the attic room so I can complete my school work in peace as like many of you are finding, trying to work on the kitchen table surrounded by noise is never easy.

I am sure you have all heard in the news that the government is hoping to ensure all children are back to school in September. For most of you this will be fantastic news and a welcome relief but for some of you it will be a worrying and unsettling time. It's important talk to a trusted adult about how you are feeling and to remember that teachers are working hard to ensure that whenever you return to school you feel settled and ready to learn.

I am looking forward to seeing you all when you pop into school to be videoed for our end of term poem. I know from the emails I have read that some of you are feeling a little anxious about being videoed, Mr Warrener and I will make sure all of you feel as happy and comfortable as possible. Don't forget that unlike a live performance, if you make a mistake we can just video you again and nobody will be any the wiser! We are hoping that the poem will be a fun way to be able to mark the end of the academic year. I will be sending out information about times and dates for you to come into school in the next few days.

Don't forget to send back your forms about yourselves. I'll be asking Mrs Foster to work her magic and put these into a PowerPoint. Hopefully she will be able to include some of the photos we have taken over the year, including our time at Robinwood – which now feels like a long time ago. I will always be grateful that we booked our trip to Robinwood early in the year and that we can have those fond memories to look back on. During this odd time, I think it's easy to think about the things we are missing out on but it's important to remember the things we did experience, such as our Christmas carol concert and Robinwood.

Have a great week, take care and I will see you all very soon

Mrs Tobin
